

2019 BBSRC INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOPS GUIDANCE NOTES

Call Opens: 10th September 2019

Call Closes: 14th November 2019

BBSRC is pleased to invite applications to its annual call for International Workshops. The deadline for receipt of applications is 16:00 Thursday 14th November 2019 for workshops planned between April 2020 and March 2021. Successful awards will be announced in early 2020.

Applications are invited from current BBSRC research grant holders, who are in receipt of BBSRC research funding. Full eligibility criteria is outlined in the table below.

BACKGROUND

BBSRC appreciates that the best research and ideas often come about from collaboration with other individuals, located both in the UK and around the world. The BBSRC International Workshops scheme has been running successfully for over 10 years to facilitate the coming together of experts. Since 2005, BBSRC has supported 111 workshops with a total investment of over £1.2M.

In previous years the International Workshop scheme has provided around 6 awards of up to £10k each. Awards are aimed at developing relations in topics relevant to current BBSRC strategic priorities. Previous BBSRC sponsored workshops have created good international synergy; many have led to successful international research projects that have provided considerable added value to UK science. A list of awards funded through previous calls is available at: <http://www.bbsrc.ac.uk/documents/international-workshops-previous-awards-pdf/>

WORKSHOPS OBJECTIVES AND BENEFITS

BBSRC does not issue a prescriptive list of objectives for International Workshops but a successful workshop would usually include:

- A review of the current status of research in a specific area from each country.
- Identification of topics that could benefit from collaboration between the participants.
- Identification of the means for subsequent development of such collaboration.
- An agreed action plan for implementation.
- Reporting key findings and specific outputs from their Workshop.

These International Workshops give rise to a number of benefits for BBSRC sponsored scientists. Firstly, there is a clear gain in exposure to different approaches and ideas, especially when coupled with access to both new expertise and facilities. Workshops tend to be targeted towards new areas and those in which extensive international networks do not already exist. Secondly, these workshops can provide the contacts and links that are essential to the formation of consortia for accessing other funding sources such as the EU Framework Programme. Thirdly, there is return in the form of synergy in the generation of new ideas between the participating countries.

Applications to this call can be for workshops with any country in any area within BBSRC remit, based on current BBSRC research funding. International Workshops can be held in the UK or overseas and should always present an international dimension to them, for example in its location, participants or partners. Many workshops are used as a platform to look for new, long term partnerships which may be eligible for BBSRC International Partnering Awards on funding from other bodies.

ELIGIBILITY

Applications must be made by a Principal Investigator (PI) who is currently in receipt of BBSRC research funding. In addition the associated BBSRC grant must have started before the application deadline and must have at least 6 months remaining from the start of the award.

We encourage joint applications by consortia of UK partners, which could include industrial and non-BBSRC funded partners; however a BBSRC funded applicant must lead the consortia and submit the proposal using JeS. Not all UK participants in workshops are required to be in receipt of BBSRC funding and we welcome applications with workshop participants from industry. We do however expect the majority of UK partners to be BBSRC funded.

The table below provides further information on the eligibility criteria:

Eligible:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PI on an active BBSRC responsive mode research grant • PI on an active BBSRC themed research grant • Recipient of a fellowship award from BBSRC. • PI or Co-I on a current BBSRC Strategic Lola or Initiative grant with funding of over £1M • PI or Co-I on a current BBSRC Institute strategic programme grant at a National Institute of Bioscience: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Babraham Institute; – Institute of Biological Environmental and Rural Sciences; – John Innes Centre; – Roslin Institute; – Rothamsted Research; – The Earlham Institute; – The Pirbright Institute; – Quadrum Institute.

Full details of eligibility criteria for BBSRC funding can be found in the Guide to BBSRC Research grants.

Applicants should contact BBSRC for advice if they have any eligibility concerns: sania.afzal@ukri.bbsrc.org

WORKSHOP FORMAT

Workshops can be held in the UK or abroad. The call is open to proposals involving collaborations with any other country, although BBSRC is particularly interested in promoting further links with Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Europe, India, Japan, New Zealand, Taiwan and the USA.

Experience has shown that there is no set formula for a successful workshop and that there is a need to be flexible according to the needs of the subject area. Best practice from previous workshops suggests the following factors:

- Designated leads for different areas, with an overall leader nominated by each side.
- A common sense of purpose communicated in advance to all participants.
- An informal atmosphere, encouraging a full and frank exchange of ideas.
- Opportunities for additional meetings between small numbers of participants (5-10 on each side).
- Agreed outcomes.
- Designated responsibilities for producing a workshop report and other follow up actions.

The format usually includes a mixture of seminar-style presentations followed by smaller group discussions and feedback sessions to the whole workshop. Workshops are often held within institutes or universities and there may be value in persuading the visiting side to give presentations to larger groups working in the field that are not actually attending the workshop.

Finally, the wrap-up session is an important element of the workshop, which can be overlooked in the enthusiasm of information exchange. The workshop is about the future and it is essential that enough time is left to prepare an action plan for the way forward. Please indicate in your 'Case for Support' if you would find it helpful for BBSRC to be represented at the workshop.

Assessment Criteria

Applications are assessed internally by BBSRC. This light-touch internal assessment allows International Workshop applications to be processed swiftly and can be applied as they are based on an existing BBSRC grant, which has already undergone robust peer review. Proposals are assessed against the following criteria:

- The value added to BBSRC-funded science from the workshop.
- Alignment of the workshop to current BBSRC strategic priorities.
- The expected output of the workshop.
- The level of contribution made towards the workshop from other sources.

Further details about BBSRC's science and strategic priorities may be found in BBSRC's Delivery Plan.

The success of each workshop will be measured against the following criteria:

- Completion of the objectives set out in the application.
- The added value to BBSRC science.
- The value of the developing partnerships and whether the Workshop has led to further external funding opportunities.
- The value to wider UK international Science, Engineering and Technology (SET) objectives.
- The production of further applications to BBSRC or other funders.

GRANT MAINTENANCE

All grant maintenance requests (e.g. grant extension request, extension to start date, transfer of organisation) should be made via the Grant Maintenance facility in JeS.

All requests for extensions must be made once the required duration is known and before the grant ends. Further information can be found at: <https://je-s.rcuk.ac.uk/Handbook/Index.htm>
